

Public Sector Equality Duty

2026–27

Pele Trust and Richard Coates CE Primary School are committed to equality and to complying with the Equality Act 2010 across education, employment, services and public functions.

Our school aims are that every student in school is supported to:

- Achieve their full academic and personal potential regardless of their background, heritage, or individual needs.
- Develop self-confidence, resilience and respect for themselves and others within an inclusive, welcoming environment.
- Feel valued, safe, and heard, knowing that their unique identity and contributions to the school community are celebrated.
- Understand and embrace diversity, preparing them to thrive as responsible, empathetic citizens in a modern, multicultural society.
- Access a broad, balanced, and ambitious curriculum with equal opportunity to participate in all aspects of school life.

We take a whole-school approach to equality and human rights. Pupils will learn, in an age-appropriate and impartial way, about respect, protected characteristics, healthy relationships and different families through the curriculum and wider school life, having regard to the statutory RSHE guidance in force from Sept 1, 2026 .

In all aspects of school life we are committed to fairness and equality; this includes:

- our curriculum
- assembly programme
- pastoral support
- extracurricular programme and activities

Section 149 of the Equality Act 2010 requires the Trust and each academy, when exercising their functions, to have due regard to the need to:

1. Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct prohibited by or under the Equality Act 2010.
2. Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.
3. Foster good relations across all characteristics – between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

The PSED applies to the Trust and each academy as public authorities and to their relevant functions affecting pupils, staff, parents/carers, visitors and communities. The required level of due regard is proportionate to the seriousness and likelihood of the potential equality effects; the duty must be considered before and during decision-making and kept under review.

The Equality Act identifies nine protected characteristics:

- Disability
- Gender reassignment
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Race
- Religion or belief
- Sex
- Sexual orientation
- Age (only applicable to staff, not students)
- Marriage and Civil Partnerships (only applicable to staff, not students)

For pupils, age and marriage and civil partnership are not protected characteristics under the schools provisions in Part 6 of the Act. Age remains relevant to the Trust's employment and other functions.

Under the PSED, marriage and civil partnership is relevant only to the need to eliminate unlawful discrimination. Following For Women Scotland Ltd v Scottish Ministers [2025] UKSC 16, "sex" in the Equality Act means biological sex; gender reassignment remains a separate protected characteristic, and all pupils and staff must be treated lawfully, fairly and with dignity.

Our school will have due regard to advancing equality of opportunity including making a clear and consistent commitment to:

- Minimise or eliminate disadvantages suffered by person or persons who share a relevant protected characteristic
- Take steps to meet the needs of a person or persons who share a protected characteristic that are different from the needs of others who do not share it
- Encourage persons who share a relevant protected characteristic to participate fully in public life
- Encourage persons who share a relevant protected characteristic to participate fully in any school activity in which participation by such persons is disproportionately low

The following practical principles, drawn from case law and current PSED guidance, support lawful due regard. They are not a substitute for considering the facts and evidence in each decision:

1. Awareness

- a. Decision-makers know the duty, receive sufficient relevant information and understand what the law requires

2. Timeliness

- a. Equality implications are considered before and during formulation and implementation, not as an afterthought

3. Rigour
 - a. open-minded, evidence-based and proportionate analysis, including affected pupil, parent/carer and staff views where appropriate
4. Non-delegation
 - a. Operational work may be assigned, but each decision-maker remains responsible for giving due regard
5. Continuous
 - a. The duty is continuing; impacts and mitigations are monitored after implementation
6. Record-keeping
 - a. Keep proportionate, contemporaneous records showing the equality issues, evidence, options, mitigations and monitoring considered

Pele Trust and Richard Coates CE Primary School will publish accessible, relevant and proportionate information demonstrating PSED compliance at least annually and will publish one or more specific and measurable equality objectives at least every four years. Annual information will include actions taken and progress against the current objectives.

We aim to present the information in a format that is easy to read and can be accessed simply from the school website.

Equality Information

We process equality information in accordance with the UK General Data Protection Regulation, the Data Protection Act 2018 and our privacy information. Where information is special category data, the Trust will document an Article 6 lawful basis and an Article 9 condition, apply data minimisation and security, and complete a DPIA where processing is likely to be high risk. Published information will be aggregated, rounded or suppressed where necessary so that no pupil or member of staff is identifiable, including by combining data with other information.

Staff
